Biography

James Borishade has more than 17 years of educational experience as a Teacher, National Director and presenter. He has worked to provide innovative resources and tools to more than 15,000 students throughout the country. While serving as an educator, Mr. Borishade became the person other teachers would send their students for behavioral modification.

Mr. Borishade was selected by one of the nation's leading non-profits to lead a 30 person team assigned to work with schools implementing experiential education in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minneapolis, Kentucky, Kansas, Ohio, Missouri and Michigan. Through this effort, he helped forge partnerships with DePaul University; Illinois State University; Loyola University; University of Kentucky; University of Missouri; Kansas City; University of Wisconsin; and Ohio State University. His work with students was recently featured in the text book, "Careers in Child Development".
